

Earth and planetary science

Figure 1 is a horizontal bar chart titled "Documents by subject area". The x-axis represents the year, ranging from 1996 to 2018 in increments of 2 years. The y-axis lists 25 subject areas. The bars represent the number of documents published in each subject area over time. The bars are green, except for "Earth and Planetary Sciences" which is blue. The chart shows a general upward trend in document counts over time for most subject areas, with "Earth and Planetary Sciences" having the highest volume.
